

OWNERSHIP BIOS

Brad Nevil

Brad graduated from Anna High School, a farm town north of Dallas. He attended Baylor University, where he studied business. While in college, he started Nevil Properties, with his then girlfriend Haley Walthall, which provided student housing for Baylor students.

Brad Graduated in 1996 and was accepted into Baylor's MBA program, but was persuaded by his Father, Mike Nevil, to join the family business. He married Haley in 1998 and the two helped Mike operate Tejas Textured Stone until it sold in 2006 to the Pavestone Corporation.

Today he and Haley oversee the day-to-day operation of NevilStone. They are both committed to continuing the family business that was started by his Grandfather, E.O. Nevil.

When not working, Brad enjoys hunting, fishing, and spending time with Haley and their 2 children. He is also committed to giving back to his church and community, as he is extremely grateful that God has blessed him with health, happiness and a wonderful family.

Haley Nevil

Haley graduated from Klein Forest High School in Houston, Texas. She spent much of her early years in and around construction sites as her Dad was a residential homebuilder. She began her college career at Baylor University, where she met Brad, however transferred her junior year to Texas Christian University. She went on to receive a Bachelor of Science degree from TCU, but spent many of her weekends back in Waco helping Brad run Nevil Properties, a property management company.

She married Brad in 1998, and helped Brad's father, Mike Nevil start Tejas Textured Stone, where she oversaw much of the operational duties. After having their first child in 2000, Haley took a step back to focus the majority of her time on being a mom. Once both children had started school, Haley stepped back in to manage the operations at NevilStone. She is quite thankful for the opportunity to help build on the legacy of the family business.

When not working she loves to read, volunteer and spend time with Brad and their 2 children.
